President's message

Hello Members,

March is here, and that means longer days, warmer thoughts, and the not-so-subtle urge to get our Corvettes out of hibernation. Before we know it, we'll be cruising together again, chrome shining and engines running. Join us this month as we catch up on club news, upcoming cruises, and events planned for the spring and summer season. Meetings are always a great way to stay connected and share ideas.

March is packed with opportunities to get together, whether it's bowling, dining out, or just enjoying good conversation with fellow members. Check the calendar for dates and details.

Plans are coming together for spring cruises, car shows, and special events. Keep an eye out for sign-ups and announcements-this season is shaping up to be a fun one. Now's the perfect time to check batteries, tire pressure, and fluids so your Corvette is road-ready when that first perfect driving day arrives. We all know it's coming...and it never comes soon enough.

Thank you to everyone who continues to support the club, attend events, and make North Shore Corvettes of MA such a great group to be part of. Whether you've been with us for years or just joined, you help make this club what it is.

We look forward to seeing you at our March events and meetings-and very soon, out on the open road. Until then, stay safe and keep dreaming of top-down weather!

Please e-mail our Cruise Directors Kirk Therrien, kirk.therrien@cwservices.com or Jim Marchese, jpm7871@comcast.net with your suggestions.

February Recap – North Shore Corvettes of MA

February may be the shortest month of the year, but North Shore Corvettes of MA made the most of it with a great mix of meetings, activities and time spent together.

E- Board Meeting

We kicked off the month with our E- Board meeting, where plans continued to take shape for the upcoming driving season. It's exciting to see so many events and ideas coming together as we look ahead to spring.

Bowling Nights

Our bowling outings were another highlight of February. As always, they delivered plenty of laughs, friendly competition, and good camaraderie-proving once again that NSCM members can have fun both on and off the road,

Monthly Dinner

The monthly dinner at Tremezzo's was a great hit, with great food, fun and lots of camaraderie which made for an enjoyable evening.

Monthly Club Meeting

Our February meeting gave members the chance to catch up and hear updates from the Board, and look ahead to what's coming in the months ahead.

Thank You to Our Members

A big thank-you goes out to all the members who participated in the February events. Your continued involvement and enthusiasm are what makes North Shore Corvettes such a great club.

March 2026 – National Corvette Museum Report

A Piece of History

The One Millionth Corvette: A Milestone in American Automotive History

The One Millionth Corvette stands as one of the most important vehicles ever produced in American automotive history. More than a symbol of production success, it represents decades of innovation, performance, and cultural impact. While many people associate this historic car with the 2014 sinkhole incident at the National Corvette Museum, its story reaches far beyond that moment.

What Is the One Millionth Corvette?

The One Millionth Corvette is a white 1992 Chevrolet Corvette convertible produced on June 25, 1992, at the Bowling Green Assembly Plant in Kentucky. It marked the one millionth Corvette built since production began in 1953.

This milestone vehicle is based on the fourth-generation Corvette, commonly known as the C4 generation, which was produced from 1984 through 1996. The fourth generation represented major advancements in engineering, aerodynamics, and performance, helping modernize the Corvette for a new generation of drivers.

Why the One Millionth Corvette Was Special

To commemorate the milestone, the One Millionth Corvette was built with distinctive features that set it apart from standard production models.

Key Features:

- Exterior color: Arctic White
- Interior: Red leather
- Roof: White convertible top
- Engine: 5.7-liter LT1 V8
- Transmission: Automatic
- Wheels: Factory aluminum 'saw-blade' style
- Interior accents: Custom embroidery and trim identifying it as the one millionth Corvette

Every design choice was intentional. The white exterior and red interior paid tribute to the 1953 Corvette, while the modern LT1 engine represented the performance standards of the early 1990s.

Presentation to the National Corvette Museum

After its completion, the One Millionth Corvette was presented to the National Corvette Museum, which had opened its doors in 1994 in Bowling Green, Kentucky. The vehicle became a centerpiece of the Museum's growing collection and a tangible symbol of Corvette's production legacy.

The car has never been sold to a private owner. From the beginning, it was preserved as a historical artifact rather than a commercial product.

The Corvette Legacy Behind the Milestone

When the One Millionth Corvette rolled off the assembly line in 1992, it represented nearly four decades of continuous development by Chevrolet and its parent company, General Motors.

Since its debut in 1953, the Corvette evolved from a modest fiberglass roadster into a global performance icon. By the early 1990s, it had established itself as a true American sports car, capable of competing with European and Japanese rivals on both road and track.

Reaching one million units confirmed that Corvette was not just a niche vehicle but a long-term success story in automotive manufacturing.

The 2014 Sinkhole Incident

On February 12, 2014, a massive sinkhole opened beneath the Museum's Skydome exhibit area. Eight Corvettes were damaged in the collapse, including the One Millionth Corvette.

The vehicle suffered significant structural and cosmetic damage, including:

- Crushed body panels
- Bent frame components
- Broken suspension parts
- Severe underbody damage

Images and videos of the incident quickly spread worldwide, making the One Millionth Corvette a symbol of the disaster. While dramatic, this event represents only one chapter in the vehicle's history.

Restoration and Preservation

Following the sinkhole collapse, the Museum made a deliberate decision to restore the One Millionth Corvette rather than leave it permanently damaged. The restoration involved: careful documentation of all damage, frame and structural repairs, rebuilding suspension components, replacing damaged body panels, refinishing the exterior and interior, mechanical inspection and restoration.

The goal was not to make the car appear brand new, but to preserve its historical authenticity while returning it to display condition. Some evidence of the sinkhole damage remains visible, serving as part of the car's story and educational value.

Visiting the One Millionth Corvette Today

Visitors to the National Corvette Museum can see the One Millionth Corvette on display as part of the Museum's permanent collection. Interpretive signage and exhibits provide context about its production, features, sinkhole damage, and restoration. Seeing the vehicle in person offers a deeper appreciation for its craftsmanship, historical value, and resilience.

Library & Archives

The National Corvette Museum Library & Archives is the ultimate resource for Corvette history, design, and engineering. Dedicated to preserving the legacy of America's Sports Car, our collection includes rare documents, original blueprints, technical manuals, historic photographs, and exclusive media archives.

Whether you're diving into Corvette research, looking for specific images, or have general questions, our dedicated experts are here to help. The NCM website has direct links to contact via email or just give a call for a one on one with a representative of the Library & Archives team.

Corvette Oral Histories

The National Corvette Museum preserves the rich history of America's Sports Car through the Corvette Oral Histories series. This collection features firsthand accounts from the designers, engineers, racers, and historians who helped shape Corvette's legacy.

From groundbreaking innovations to unforgettable moments in Corvette Racing, these exclusive interviews offer a behind-the-scenes look at the evolution, preservation, and performance of Corvette.

Explore the stories that define Corvette history—told by the people who lived it. Its just an easy ‘click’ away on the NCM website.

Collections Facility Construction Update

The new Collections Facility is well underway. Steel and concrete are quickly turning into the next major addition to the National Corvette Museum campus. Work is well underway on the new 66,000-square-foot Collections Facility, with the foundation complete, wall systems now being erected, and roof installation in progress.

The project remains on schedule for planned completion in the fall of 2026, and public tours are slated to begin in spring 2027. Check out the latest pictures on the NCM website.

Back From Daytona

#3 Corvette C5.R Returns to Display

After a featured stop in Daytona during the Rolex 24, the #3 Chevrolet Corvette C5.R has returned to the National Corvette Museum and is now back on exhibition in the E. Pierce Marshall Memorial Performance Gallery.

This GTS endurance race car runs a 7.0L naturally aspirated V8 with about 494 hp and 599 lb-ft of torque, paired with a 5-speed manual transmission and a carbon-fiber body. Driven by Andy Pilgrim, Kelly Collins, and Dale Earnhardt Sr. and Jr., it earned second in class and fourth overall at Daytona in 2001.

Michelin National Corvette Museum Bash April 23-25, 2026

Registration is now open for the 2026 Michelin Bash! Book your hotel early too as this is a well attended event and rooms go fast. Plant tours will be operating during the Bash so don't forget to book a plant tour when registering for the NCM event. Plant tours are booked through the NCM store.

Keep Your Corvette's Engine Bay Dry with Nowicki Autosport's C8 Water Traps

When the C8 Corvette debuted in 2020, owners quickly discovered how easily water could enter the coupe's engine compartment during rain or even a routine wash. To address this issue, Nowicki Autosport Design created their new C8 Water Traps — an effective solution designed to keep the engine bay dry, protected, and looking showroom fresh.

Nowicki's Water Traps are engineered for a precise OEM quality fit. Molded in bright Safety Yellow from high temperature ABS plastic, they're durable, highly visible, and proudly made in America. Each Water Trap is equipped with six neodymium rare earth magnets for secure, reliable placement. Once installed, the Water Traps efficiently channel water down through the rear shock tower drain hole and safely out to the ground. Installation is completely tool free and requires no modifications, making it a quick and hassle free upgrade

You can pick up a set of C8 Water Traps at bespokeconcept8.com for just $299 per pair. Be sure to use the coupon code 'corvetteblogger' to receive a free storage case valued at $30. Each set also includes a lifetime limited warranty covering manufacturer defects, giving you long term confidence in your purchase.

The 2026 Corvette debuts a number of important updates and changes compared to the 2025 model year, from a brand-new interior design, to the launch of the new ZR1X, to other, smaller changes, such as the introduction of a few new exterior paint options. Among those new paint options is Roswell Green Metallic, an eye-catching shade that lends the Vette an otherworldly appearance. Now, GM Authority is serving up the first look of the 2026 Corvette in Roswell Green Metallic paint.

Roswell Green Metallic is tagged with color code G4Z and touch-up paint number WA-247L, with pricing set at $500. In terms of availability, Roswell Green Metallic is available across the C8 Corvette lineup, including all C8 configurations and body types. What's more, Roswell Green Metallic is available in combination with all of the following interior colors:

Jet Black

Sky Cool Gray

Natural

Natural Dipped

Very Dark Atmosphere

Ultimate Suede Jet Black

Custom Sky Cool Gray interior / Jet Black seats

Custom Jet Black interior / Sky Cool Gray seats

Custom Jet Black interior / Adrenaline Red seats

Roswell Green Metallic is not available in combination with the following interior colors unless the buyer opts for the Color Combination Override option (RPO code D30):

- Adrenaline Red
- Adrenaline Red Dipped
- Santorini Blue
- Sky Cool / Medium Ash Gray / Habanero accents
- Habanero
- Asymmetrical Adrenaline Red / Jet Black
